Filing Technique – Advance planning is the key to creating a successful filing and storage system. To determine which system will best meet your filing needs, consider the following three filing options.

How Do You File?	How Can We Help?	What You Need	Where It's Used
Standing Files	Standing files are less expensive, allowing you to use existing folder inventory.	Compressor or following block	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Vertical files (front-to-back only) Lateral files (side-to-side only in drawers or roll-out shelves) Shelf files (side-to-side only)
Hanging Files	Because hanging files can be viewed from the top, they allow easier organization and identification of file folders. Remaining files hold their place when folders are removed.	Hangrails or high-drawer sides	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Vertical files (front-to-back only) Lateral files (front-to-back or side-to-side in drawers or roll-out shelves)
End-Tab Files	End-tab files can be viewed from the side, providing the easiest and fastest file identification. Is the preferred solution for healthcare, insurance and other critical files with frequent retrieval.	Front-access shelves to accommodate end-tab files	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Lateral files (side-to-side only in roll-out shelves or fixed shelves) Shelf files (side-to-side only – ideal for high density)

Ways To Use Lateral Files – Lateral filing is the ideal solution for active workstations, where higher capacity is necessary and retrieval is frequent. The two-drawer steel lateral files are also space-efficient, fitting under standard-height worksurfaces when used with panel systems.

Front-to-back filing: 30" wide files: 30 1/2" of filing with letter/letter rows 36" wide files: 30 1/2" of filing with letter/letter, legal/legal or letter/legal rows (30" and 36" filing requires LLR 60565 hangrails)	42" wide files: 45 1/2" of filing with three rows letter or 30 1/2" of two rows legal or two standard printout rows (requires LLR 60565 hangrails)	Side-to-side filing: 30" wide files: 27" of filing with letter or legal 36" wide files: 33" of filing with letter or legal 42" wide files: 39" of filing with letter or legal	Combination filing: (front-to-back with side-to-side in one drawer) 30" wide files: not recommended 36" wide files: 15 1/2" of front-to-back letter filing and 20 1/2" of side-to-side legal filing 42" wide files: 15 1/2" of front-to-back letter filing and 26 1/2" of side-to-side legal filing
